

REVIEW

MALAYAN DENTAL JOURNAL VOL. 1 NUMBER 1, JANUARY, 1961.

This is an attractively prepared publication making its debut. With the local Dental School already 30 years in existence, it is obviously one of the natural sequence of events in dental development. The contents would lead the reader to speculate that this is no common academic collection of articles devoted to the proselyte, and it may be that an approach of that nature can prove a boon to dentistry in Singapore much more than a mere exposition of knowledge and techniques can hope to achieve. As a publication of a sister profession, we extend to it our best wishes.

ASSOCIATION NOTES

The bill for compulsory enforcement of Diphtheria inoculation is now undergoing its first reading. This bill when introduced will mean that it will be an offence to omit to have a child inoculated, much as the provision made for smallpox vaccination.
